Congress Supports Long Term Care Through Expanded Health Savings Accounts

Published: Tue, 19 Dec 2006, 15:49:00 GMT

Edited by Chris Simmons

KIRKLAND, Wash. - Dec. 19 (SEND2PRESS NEWSWIRE) -- Before adjourning on the 9th, Congress passed the Tax Relief and Health Care Act (H.R. 6111), which expands the sources and amounts that may be contributed to Health Savings Accounts (HSA's). This is good news for those seeking long term care protection but unsure how to finance it, according to LTC Financial Partners, the nation's most experienced long term care insurance brokerage.

HSA's are tax-advantaged savings accounts restricted to health-related purposes. Funds may be withdrawn tax-free to pay for long term care (LTC) insurance, deductibles, co-insurance, and dental and vision care.

Key provisions of the new law include:

- Expansion of the maximum amount that may be contributed annually.
- The addition of new funding sources, such as one-time transfers from individual retirement accounts (IRA's).
- Permitting employers to make extra contributions for lower-paid workers.

"What this means," says Cameron Truesdell, CEO of LTC Financial Partners, "is that millions of Americans will have a painless way to protect their wellbeing, lifestyles, and assets in case they encounter longer-lasting health problems."

Those without an HSA may set one up through a bank, credit union, insurance company, or other approved organization. Employers may also set up plans for their employees.
